

CLIMATE
ADVISERS

Laurel Fioravanti

Manager of Human Resources

fioravante@climateadvisers.com | 202.350.4948

Laurel Fioravanti is the Human Resources Manager at Climate Advisers, where she oversees all aspects of Human Resources and Talent Acquisition. As the Human Resources Manager, she is responsible for implementing management strategies and policies that enable Climate Advisers to attract and retain experienced, high performing and talented professionals, and strengthen a collaborative culture.

Laurel has experience managing the human resources function in a variety of industries, including professional services, engineering, and local food. Throughout her career Laurel has been responsible for developing and implementing programs and strategies related to talent acquisition and management, on-boarding, performance management, learning and development, benefits and team member relations.

A native of Massachusetts, Laurel now resides in Kensington MD with her husband and her two daughters, where she is active in her local community. She holds a B.A. in History from the University of Massachusetts and is certified as a Professional in Human Resources (PHR) from the Human Resources Certification Institute.